

I do not understand why the Governement wants to regulate what is being sent on a private paid for subscription transmission?

I do not understand how the Federal Government or any of its' agencies have the authority to try.

Unless of course the Federal Government and or its' agencies are getting into monopolies and or facists controls.

I thought the U.S. Constitution and the laws created under its' authority, would not allow for the Federal Governement to support a Monopoly.

Please, do not limit what is on XM or any other paid for subscription transmission, or public transmission of public data such as weather and or traffic. If you wish to limit public transmission of sexually or abusive language then I may find it possible that the FCC or any organization of the Federal governement may being to control it.
